

CORONAVIRUS DISEASE (COVID-19): protecting the vulnerable

Between 01 and 30 April 2021, with support of WHO:

79
health workers trained on surveillance, case management and infection prevention and control

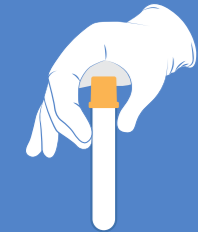

1 762 030
people reached out by CHWs with risk communication messages

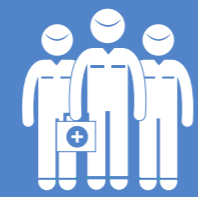

28 934
samples tested for COVID-19

1 840
community health workers deployed for case finding and contact tracing

5 000
PCR testing kits distributed to all federal member states

57
rapid response teams deployed for field investigation and sample collection

1 40
samples transported and shipped from inaccessible areas

80
alerts of COVID-19 investigated

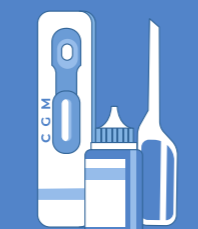

31 250
facemasks distributed to all federal member states

10
isolation centers supported for patient care

200
Sets of full PPEs distributed to federal member states

38 500
Ag-based test kits distributed for COVID-19 testing in remote locations

28 934
suspected cases investigated

79 276
people vaccinated against COVID-19

341 256
households visited by the community health workers (CHWs) for case finding

Our operational response to COVID-19 is supported by:

