

CORONAVIRUS DISEASE (COVID-19): protecting the vulnerable

Between 01 and 31 March 2021, with support of WHO:

1 228
health workers trained on surveillance, case management and infection prevention and control

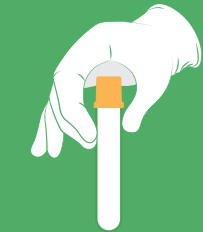

473 006
people reached out by CHWs with risk communication messages

30 495
samples tested for COVID-19

1 840
community health workers deployed for case finding and contact tracing

1 750
sample collection kits distributed to all federal member states

57
rapid response teams deployed for field investigation and sample collection

1 254
samples transported and shipped from inaccessible areas

15
alerts of COVID-19 investigated

49 200
facemasks distributed to all federal member states

9
isolation centers supported for patient care

200
Sets of full PPEs distributed to federal member states

10 500
Ag-based test kits distributed for COVID-19 testing in remote locations

30 530
suspected cases investigated

9
oxygen concentrators distributed for treatment at point-of-care

93 112
households visited by the community health workers (CHWs) for case finding

Our operational response to COVID-19 is supported by:

